Grove Park in Philadelphia but he admits he never won a really big race. Nevertheless he studied bike racing and conditioning and that brings him up to his present-day ambition: To see a Torrance cyclist in action at the national championships that will be run in Los Angeles next year. He is interested in forming a bicycle club here with the objective of entering outstanding local bike riders in the state elimination races.

Anyone—boy or girl or adult—interested in talking over bike lore and racing is welcome at Cone's shop. He will be glad to give information on the coming national contests and says that right here in Torrance we have a number of streets where prospective champs can get into condition.

ferred relief and operated free buses here for several weeks. Then the firm attempted to obtain a franchise and after several lengthy hearings this was allowed on a curtailed basis. Asbury found this unacceptable and tried again to secure a permit to operate buses from Torrance, Waverly and Lomita thru to Los Angeles and the city of Gardena entered objections on account of its municipal bus system.

Although every effort has been made by Asbury and the city of Torrance to satisfy the objecting parties and save bus service for this city all negotiations were stymied until the city started leasing Asbury buses and employees and operating as a municipal carrier.
